

The FCC should not implement any laws that would restrict Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law protections.

Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has dramatically improved my home life. We have hardly ever received a telephone solitation since signing up and the last tiem was about 4 months ago. From the time we got on the list to then, we only received a few when before we were on the list we would receive about 20 or so per week, some times more some less.

I feel that the Indiana Law seems to be working very well and I don't want to worry about a company finding a loophole with a law and calling my family. We really enjoy the better quality of life we have had since the inception of the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law.

Thank you for your time.
